To Whom It May Concern:

I am happy to recommend the quality of the proofing linen cloths which we ordered in December 2024 through company AURELIA as customers in New Zealand.

The product is of excellent quality and entirely meet our expectations. Aurelia went out of their way to source the right product and sizing for our needs, something that we truly appreciated.

Throughout the order processing and dispatching, communication and service have been fantastic. We were kept informed every step of the way and always had a speedy response which was amazing given our time difference on the other side of the world.

We have a very positive experience of company AURELIA's product and service, and can only recommend the company to potential customers worldwide. They are extremely professional but also very personable and we have formed a valuable relationship with them.

Sincerely
